

Set up GitHub as a repository for version control of your Azure Data Factory (ADF) pipelines. Link your ADF instance with a GitHub repository, enabling the ability to track changes, collaborate with team members, and manage versions of your pipelines.

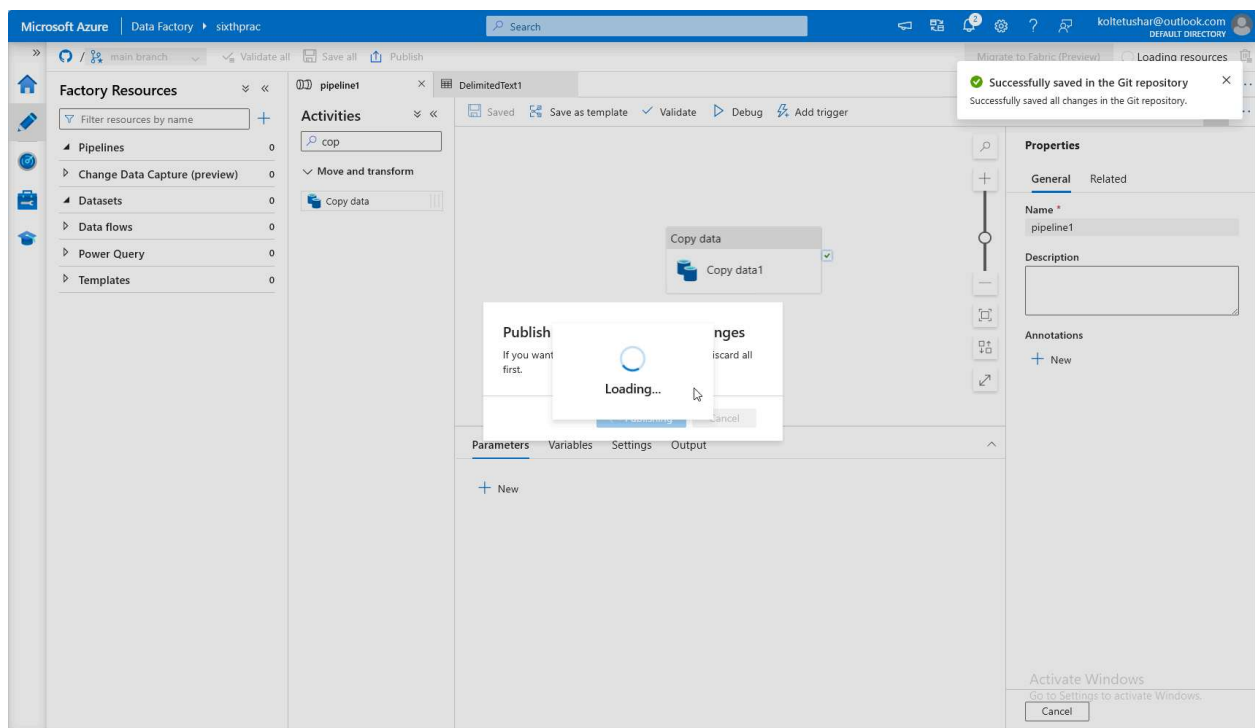

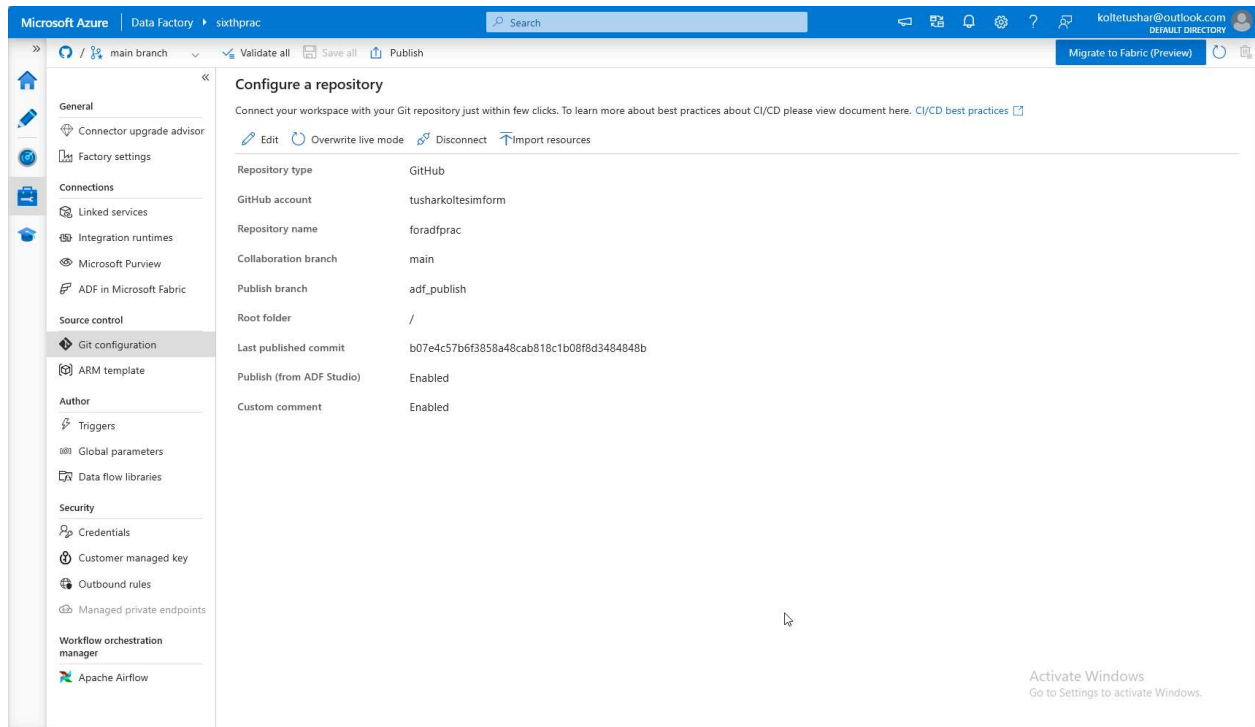

Step 1: Create a GitHub repository for your ADF project.

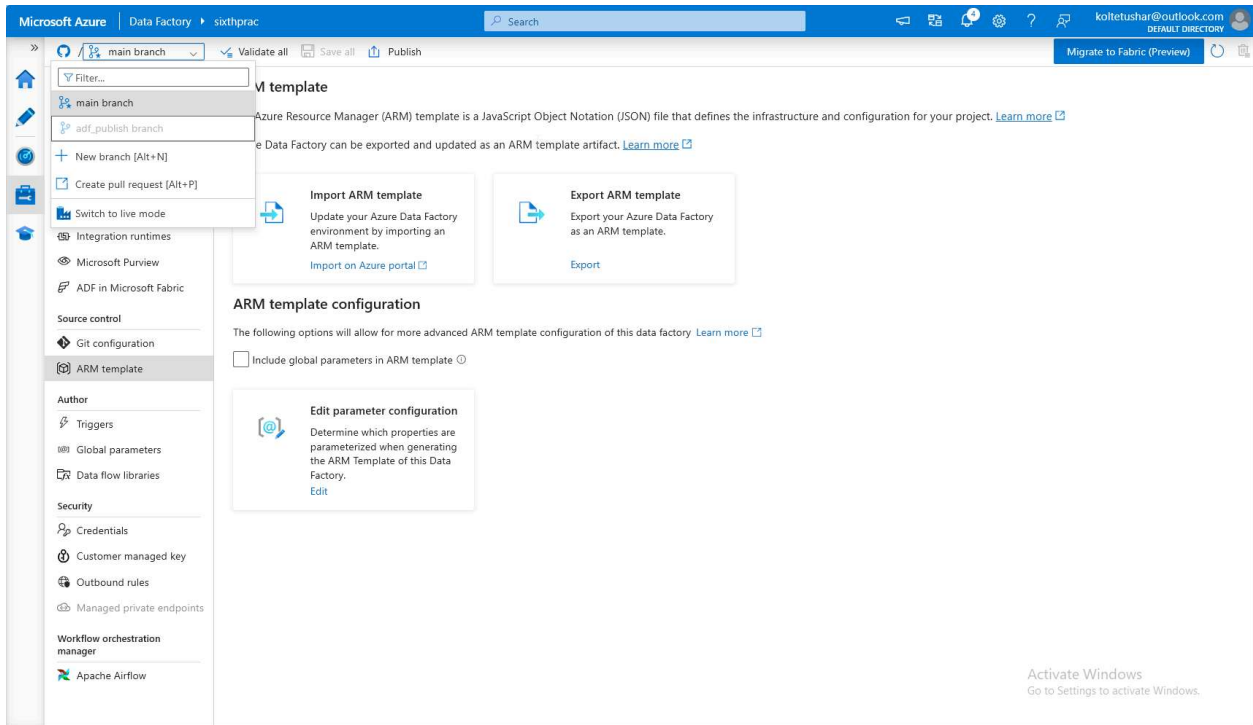

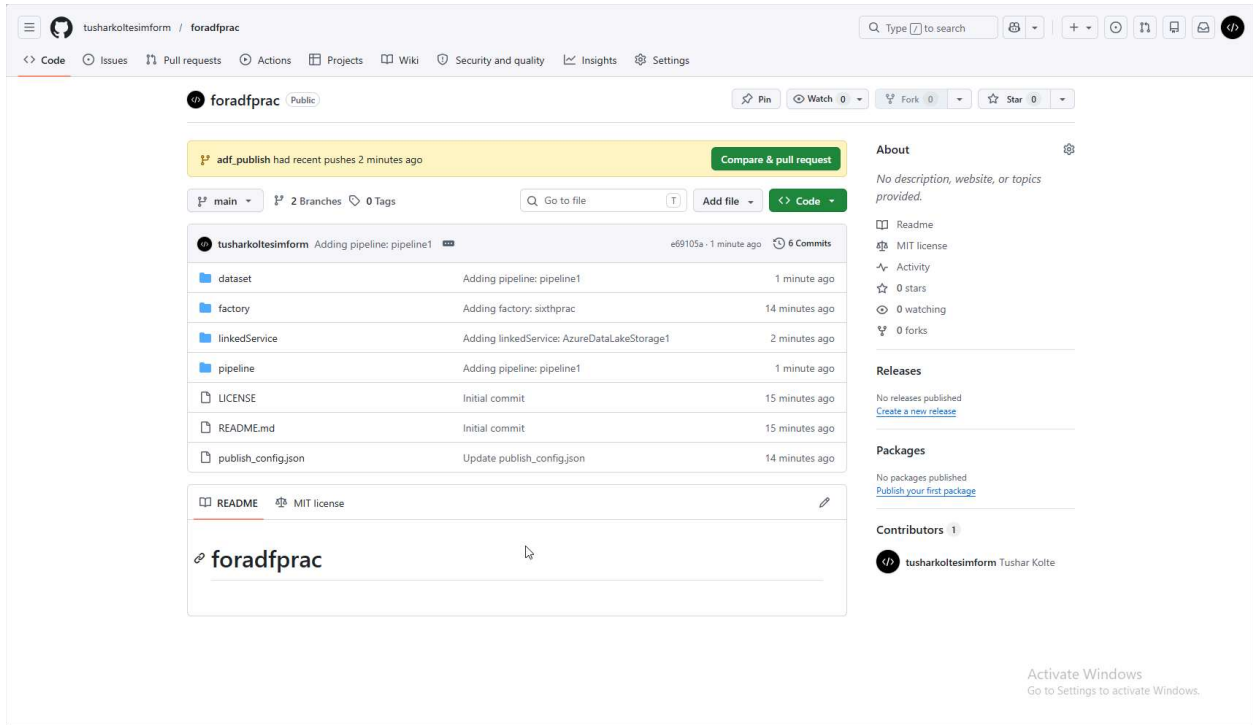

Step 2: In ADF, navigate to the Manage section and connect to GitHub under the Git configuration.

Step 3: Push your pipelines, datasets, and linked services from ADF to the GitHub repository.

Step 4: Make changes to your pipelines in ADF, commit them to the GitHub repository, and observe the changes reflected in both ADF and GitHub.
